

9:22am

The UNODC was established in 1997 with its main office in Vienna, initially focused on combating drug trafficking and crime. Over time, it expanded its role to become a key force in anti-terrorism, working to prevent the recruitment of young people by terrorist groups in regions like the Sahel and Central Asia. This committee will start by the opening speech of United States

10:10 am

During the opening speeches of the various delegations, the Republic of Mali proposed a solution to the problem of the recruitment of young people by terrorist groups. This solution includes the opportunity to develop a national plan in collaboration with other countries, aiming to find a collective response among all delegations.

10:40 am

By the recent and new solutions proposed by the different delegates. The delegation of India, makes an important intervention, they explained proposal consisting of, giving refugees to the families that had been hardly affected by the terrorist attacks.

11:01 am

An intervention by ISIS-K created an irreversible situation, showing that countries such as the United Kingdom, United States, Saudi Arabia, and Russia had been involved in sending messages and using video games to recruit increasing numbers of young people. As a result, countries like Yemen and Libya have begun expressing intentions to propose solutions and initiatives in response to this crisis.

11:43 am

An interview was conducted with the delegation of Libya. This delegation observed that decision-making power should not be concentrated in the hands of the more influential countries. They also emphasized that their development has been consistent, even during the various crises that have occurred.

In summary, a major crisis created a point of no return, prompting delegates such as Libya to issue statements regarding the attacks linked to the ongoing conflicts and to propose possible solutions. Furthermore, Russia's refusal to cooperate became a key turning point, pushing other countries to seek alliances in response.